

TRIBUTE AND CALL FOR SOLIDARITY

"Budo is expressed through the human heart. If the heart is evil, Budo becomes the voice of hatred and war. If the heart is good, Budo is the voice of harmony and peace. Only this path leads to the Great Way, which opens the doors to the mystery of life and death. "

Poem written by Alain FLOQUET to his master Minoru MOCHIZUKI.

There are trials that even a life of mastery and discipline cannot avert.

Today, illness has severely affected Master Alain FLOQUET, founder of Aikibudo and pioneer of Katori Shinto Ryu, in France and internationally.

After devoting his entire life to the martial arts and passing on his knowledge, he is now facing Lewy body disease. His health requires permanent care in a specialized facility in order to preserve his well-being and dignity.

For more than sixty years, Master Floquet has passed on the spirit of Budo—respect, righteousness, harmony, and peace—to generations of practitioners in France and around the world. Through his teaching, his commitment, and his example, he has had a profound impact on the contemporary martial arts.

Today, it is with respect and humility that we appeal for the solidarity of all those who have crossed his path or who recognize the value of his legacy.

The donations collected will contribute to the medical expenses and support that are essential at this stage of his life.

Every contribution, regardless of the amount, is an act of support, recognition, and gratitude.

The Floquet family thanks you deeply for your generosity, presence, and solidarity.
